Scripture Tracing Reading Plans

Four focused seven day paths for reading comparing and recording biblical evidence

FREE STUDY AND REFERENCE RESOURCE

Where the Bible Means What It Says

28 DAYS • 4 FOCUSED SUBJECTS • 1 OPEN BIBLE

How to Use These Plans

These four seven-day plans help you trace a bounded biblical subject through carefully selected passages. Each day gives you a reading and one focused prompt. The plans do not provide completed conclusions. Their purpose is to help you notice language, compare contexts, record evidence, and state only what the passages support.

Complete one plan at a time. Read the entire assigned passage rather than only the cited verse. Record direct observations before drawing conclusions, and keep each passage's audience, setting, and purpose visible. When two passages use similar words, do not assume they address the same question or carry the same assignment.

Plan	Subject	Primary result
1	The Gospel of Grace	Trace Paul's summary of Christ's finished work and salvation by grace through faith.
2	Your Identity in Christ	Identify truths Scripture states about the believer's position, membership, and walk.
3	Context and Audience	Practice reading commands, promises, and explanations within their communication settings.
4	Prophecy and Mystery in Acts	Trace the framework-specific chronology of two distinct programs during Acts.

Daily Method

- Read the full assigned passage slowly at least twice.
- Answer the tracing prompt from the words and relationships in the passage.
- Mark observations separately from interpretations and inferences.
- Write one sentence stating what the day's reading establishes.
- At the end of the week, synthesize only the evidence you actually gathered.

Plan 1 The Gospel of Grace

Trace how Paul explains the saving work of Christ, the content of the gospel, and the exclusion of human boasting or merit. Read each passage in full and allow its own emphasis to remain visible.

Day	Read	Trace
1	Romans 3:19–28	What human condition and divine provision does Paul set in contrast?
2	Romans 4:1–8	How does Paul distinguish faith from works and wages from gift?
3	Romans 5:1–11	What results follow justification, and what grounds reconciliation?
4	Romans 6:1–14	How does union with Christ's death and resurrection relate to the believer's walk?
5	1 Corinthians 15:1–11	Which events does Paul identify as central to the gospel he preached?
6	Ephesians 2:1–10	What belongs to God's action, what excludes boasting, and what follows salvation?
7	Titus 3:3–8	How does Paul contrast former condition, divine mercy, and the resulting life?

Weekly Synthesis

Summarize what these passages establish about Christ's work, grace, faith, works, and the believer's resulting life:

Plan 2 Your Identity in Christ

Trace statements about the believer's position and identity before moving to conduct. Pay attention to what God has done, what is already true in Christ, and how the letters connect position with walk.

Day	Read	Trace
1	Romans 6:1–14	Which identity statements explain why the believer should not continue under sin's dominion?
2	Romans 8:1–17	What does Paul say about position, the Spirit, sonship, and obligation?
3	1 Corinthians 12:12–27	How does Paul describe incorporation, unity, diversity, and mutual responsibility in one Body?
4	2 Corinthians 5:14–21	How do Christ's death, new creation, reconciliation, and ministry relate?
5	Ephesians 1:3–14	List the blessings and divine actions Paul locates in Christ.
6	Ephesians 2:11–22	What identities and relationships change, and what does God create?
7	Colossians 3:1–17	How does the believer's position shape mindset, conduct, and community life?

Weekly Synthesis

Complete the sentence from the evidence gathered: Because the believer is _____ in Christ, the believer is called to _____.

Plan 3 Context and Audience

Identify who speaks, who is addressed, what issue is handled, and how surrounding verses control meaning. Respect the communication setting Scripture supplies.

Day	Read	Trace
1	Genesis 12:1–9	Who receives the promises, and what does the passage explicitly include?
2	Exodus 19:1–8	Who is assembled, what prior act of God is recalled, and what covenant responsibility is proposed?
3	Matthew 10:1–15	Who receives the commission, where are they sent, and what limits appear in the passage?
4	Acts 2:14–41	Whom does Peter address, which Scriptures does he invoke, and what response does he command?
5	Acts 15:1–29	What controversy brings the council together, and how are testimony, Scripture, and practical judgment used?
6	1 Corinthians 8:1–13	What local issue is addressed, and how does Paul move from knowledge to responsibility?
7	Philemon 1–25	How do the sender, recipients, relationships, and appeal shape the letter's meaning?

Weekly Synthesis

Name three ways audience or setting changed how you understood a command, promise, or appeal:

Plan 4 Prophecy and Mystery in Acts

This plan is framework-specific. Trace the Acts Overlap chronology without transition, replacement, blending, morphing, or sequential-program language. Prophecy begins before Acts 9; Mystery begins at Acts 9; both operate distinctly and concurrently through Acts 28; Prophecy is then suspended while Mystery continues.

Day	Read	Trace
1	Luke 1:67–79 and Acts 3:18–26	What prior prophetic revelation and named audience appear?
2	Acts 9:1–22 and 26:12–18	What calling and commission begin with Paul?
3	Galatians 1:11–24 and 2:1–10	What does Paul say about revelation and recognized spheres?
4	Acts 10:1–48 and 11:1–18	Which audience, signs, and prophetic concerns govern Cornelius?
5	Acts 15:1–29	How do distinct ministries cooperate without becoming one program?
6	Acts 13:44–48; 18:5–7; 19:8–10	Why do local rejections not equal national suspension?
7	Acts 28:17–31	What boundary is reached, and what ministry continues?

Weekly Synthesis

Summarize the relationship of Prophecy and Mystery during Acts 9–28 without merging their audiences, commissions, or identities:

Four Plan Review

Review your notes after completing all four plans. The purpose of this page is to identify patterns in your study habits, not to replace the passage-specific conclusions recorded during each week.

Evidence and Method Review

- ☐ I read complete passages rather than extracting isolated verses.
- ☐ I distinguished direct observations from interpretations and inferences.
- ☐ I kept audience, setting, purpose, and surrounding context visible.
- ☐ I did not assume that similar words automatically carry identical meanings or assignments.
- ☐ I revised conclusions when later reading exposed weak or incomplete reasoning.
- ☐ I kept framework-specific conclusions distinct from the neutral method used to examine passages.

The strongest interpretive habit I developed:

The recurring weakness I need to address:

The subject I am prepared to study more deeply:

Next Study Decision

- ☐ Repeat one plan with fuller written notes.
- ☐ Use the Passage Study Worksheet Pack on one selected passage.
- ☐ Use a focused Digital Study for sustained investigation of one doctrine or question.
- ☐ Continue with the Biblical Hermeneutics Course for sequenced interpretive training.

Scope and Personal Use

These reading plans are complete guides for four bounded tracing exercises. They intentionally provide passages and evidence-focused prompts rather than worked answers or full doctrinal arguments. Readers should test conclusions from Scripture, distinguish observation from inference, and avoid treating a reading list as proof by itself.

What the Plans Do Not Replace

- Focused Digital Studies that develop a sustained biblical investigation
- The forty-lesson Biblical Hermeneutics Course and its cumulative method, exercises, diagnostics, guided exegesis, and capstone
- The Acts Overlap Theology Series and its comprehensive theological architecture
- The Diagnostic Manual and its complete Seven Diagnostic Lenses
- Independent verification of context, textual relationships, and competing interpretations

A Responsible Tracing Principle

A sequence of references can reveal patterns worth studying, but the meaning of each passage must still be established in its own context. Synthesis follows interpretation; it does not replace it.
